EMBA program

Target audience

Mainly targeting experienced professionals and mid-level or senior executives. Applicants usually have more than 10 years of experience, and many are in leadership or management roles or preparing for them.

Objectives

The purpose is for employees who are already in a managerial role to further strengthen their insight and strategic thinking in overall management, and to enhance their abilities as a manager. Emphasizes career advancement, networking, and practical application.

Class method and time

Often designed for busy working professionals with weekend or evening classes, and the learning period is shorter than that of an MBA. Students are structured to participate in learning while maintaining their jobs.

US EMBA PROGRAM ONLINE

About Us

EMBA (Executive MBA) and MBA are both master's degrees in business administration, but they differ in their target audience, learning methods, program goals, etc.

Learning Approach

- MBA: Mainly covers all areas of management such as management theory, business strategy, marketing, and finance, and builds a theoretical foundation through practice and case studies.
- EMBA: Includes practice-oriented education and many case studies, and focuses on solving problems related to the current job. Since students with a lot of experience in management gather, there are many opportunities for networking and mutual learning.
